

8TH EDITION OF

INDIAN CONFERENCE ON LIFE CYCLE MANAGEMENT

14-15th November 2019 | Gujarat Forest Research & Training Institute (GFRTI)

BACKGROUND

Consciousness across the world is growing that we need models that allow economic growth along with sustainability. To fully embed sustainability, a systemic approach to building solutions is key. Life Cycle Thinking (LCT) is a systemic framework that takes a holistic view of the production and consumption of a product or service and assesses its impacts on the environment through the entire life cycle. It forms the basis of the SDGs (especially Goal 11 and 12) which implicitly require Life Cycle Thinking to prioritize action by identifying the key drivers of environmental and social problems.
